35MM

Luminaire with diffuse light powered by a disposable battery.

Our smallest lamp, that you can wear. The idea comes from the poetic reuse of the classic 35 mm photo slide.
A small suspended frame, essential and light, that reinvents itself with each picture it holds.
With 35MM, light narrates, frames and thrills.

The visible part of the frame is in matt white polycarbonate; the black is polished black.
The black suspension cord is elastic and is closed by a magnet.
Not included, the image may be a slide or a frame printed on translucent material.

The light is intermittent, while power is provided by two disposable batteries, which are included.
The switch is positioned on the upper part of the lamp.
